HARNESSES APPLICATIONS

Champion has been made aware that our new high performance leads have been installed on non-FAA-PMA applications.

Champion Aviation harnesses are NOT approved for use on the Unison Lasar ignition system or any system not using conventional magnetos when installed on a type certificated aircraft.

We understand the Champion harness is being used on the experimental or "Homebuilt" aircraft with the Lasar system. This classification does not require FAA-PMA approval.

Champion Aviation is in the process of updating FAA-PMA harness applications. Information regarding new approvals will be made available as soon as possible.
